“ He never stopped telling stories whenever I called him, and a few of his favorite things to talk about were Dad (his brother, David) and his cars. I've still got a story he inspired that I was thinking about turning into a full length novel. I still remember most of that conversation. We talked a long time that night. I'm going to miss him like crazy.

“ You will be missed cousin Mark you were a gentle giant every body knew would always be there for them. I hope you are telling old stories and laughing with your brothers, my dad and Uncle George.

Mark was never shy to get up and dance with his family. He was always available to be part of any family celebration. No matter what was planned, Mark would always be in attendance, he never declined a family outing. And that will be our families greatest loss, because you could always count on Mark coming to your celebration. Thank you Mark for always being there. Love you cousin, Billy.
