“ I remember she was one of 8 brothers and sisters who put on a uniform in World War Two . They all came home safe. Her three older brother and sisters were in war work at home. Les Manns

“ Rest in peace, Olive. I worked at RMC, while Richard and Olive were there. They were such a great couple. While visiting them in their apt., they told me about how they met, their life in Canada, family, trips, friends, Richard serving his country, etc. Olive missed Richard very much after his death. When Olive moved into A.L., we visited often. In fact, that's where I worked on her Life Story. I hope one of you still has it; such a treasure. Olive wanted to talk about her life and life with Richard. Olive remembered nail by nail, etc. how she and Richard built their home. What a history of information she gave me. She wanted her children to read about that. It was important to her. If I was in the hospital back in the day when she was a nurse - I would want her to care for me. My picture of Olive in my mind, is in their apartment, she showed me the dress/gown she was going to wear to an upcoming wedding. Richard wanted her to put it on and show me. When she came out of her room with it on, I first saw how beautiful she was in it. Then I looked at Richard. He couldn't take his eyes off of her. In fact tears welled up in his eyes. Well, that made me cry! Just a beautiful moment between them that I was fortunate to witness. My life is richer for knowing Olive and Richard. Thank you.
